The shy skeleton

Once upon a time, Charles and two friends were walking near the disco.

Finally, their dog saw someone moving at the gate. The dog started barking and chasing him. Charles and his friends were very happy.

They then went into the disco to get their dog. They saw a dancer running among the lights. The dog kept barking.

Then Charles turned on a torch. They looked he was not a dancer, but a waiter who was going to close the disco gate.

One day, the children took their dog and went home.
