

Beginning, middle, end of the story...

You decide!

1 Look at the image and write

This image happens in the MIDDLE of the story.

What could happen before (BEGINNING)?

What will happen later (END)?

Write a short story writing the begging and the end of the story.
