

Noughts and crosses

1 Noughts and crosses

What is your personality trait?	Do you think we are born with our personality or do we develop it?	Are young and old people's personalities different?
If you could change any aspect of your personality, what would it be?	Do you think friends make a difference in your personality?	Is your personality similar to any of the people around you?
What kind of people do you get along well with?	What personality types are you attracted to?	What personality traits do you consider important as a good friend?
